

TRIPLE TRAIL CHALLENGE

RACER HANDBOOK

AS OF 1.18.18

Welcome to the Triple Trail Challenge presented by Jaybird providing incredible, customizable sound while running.

While we have provided some specific notes below on the series. Please be sure to read through each individual racer handbook so you can be sure to have all the details for each stage.

TRIPLE TRAIL CHALLENGE JACKETS

- If you are a new/first-time participant to the series, we will size you for your jacket at bib pickup at the first stage (Round Valley Rambler).
- If you are a returning participant and already have a jacket, please bring your jacket (labeled with your name and phone number) to bib pickup at the first stage (Round Valley Rambler). An easy way to label your jacket is to simply put a business card in a pocket.

Jackets will be handed out at the finish of the final stage (Mid Mountain Marathon). Look for the TTC Tent and come claim your reward for an amazing accomplishment!

Remember you need to have a finish time for all three stages to receive your jacket.

RESULTS / AWARDS

Following each race, we will post current standing on the Mountain Trails Foundation website under the Triple Trail Challenge event.

Awards for the top three finishers men/women will be handed out at the finish of the final stage – Mind Mountain Marathon.

WHAT HAPPENS IF I MISS A STAGE?

We get it - life happens and you might miss a stage. Here are some things you need to know if this happens:

- You are not eligible to receive your TTC Jacket
- If you are a returning participant, we will have your jacket at the finish of the Mid Mountain Marathon, but please note your jacket will have the 2018 logo on it. Jackets are embroidered following the first stage
- If you miss a stage you can still run the other two, you are just not eligible for your TTC Jacket
